

---

Prof. Dr. Iosif Bizelis

---

Born 1954. He studied Chemistry at the National and Kapodistrian University of Athens and Animal Science at the Agricultural University of Athens, where he graduated in 1984 and received his Ph.D in animal physiology in 1989. In 1993 he became Lecturer and in 2001 Assistant Professor at the Agricultural University of Athens. Since 2009 he is Associate Professor at the Department of Animal Science at the Agricultural University of Athens. He participated at national program for study and conservation of rare breeds of small ruminants and pigs, between 1991 and 1996. Since 1990 he participated in many projects concerning all domestic animal species. In 2010 he joined Amaltheia (Greek society for the protection and conservation of indigenous breeds of domestic animals) and at 2012 he is elected as vice-president.